Dear Sir / Madame

Please find enclosed within this fax transmission-

- A completed Form 64 Petition for revival of an application for patent abandoned unintentionally under 37 CFR 1.137(b).
- A completed Credit Card Payment Form 2038.
- A copy of an original response faxed to the USPTO on 18th April 2005.
- A copy of a fax machine phonebill evidencing this response faxed to the USPTO on that date timed at 16:48:24 and delivered to fax machine telephone number- (001) 7038729306.

These submissions are regarding my patent application No. 10/772562

Last year I attended to a final office action of this patent application. Discussion of phrasing this application into immediate condition for allowance was somewhat more difficult than usual due to the fact that my allocated US patent examiner (Mr. Christopher Bottorff) had recently moved offices and had no access to a personal fax machine. As a result of this I progressed the issue as much as was possible over the phone with my examiner whom I found to be extremely helpful. As discussing the detail of claims can however become confusing without being able to see and read the text under discussion it was agreed with my examiner that I would prepare a selection of responses enabling him to choose the one that he felt was immediately allowable in order to progress the patent to grant. This process would not have normally been necessary as such options could have been informally viewed by the examiner before formal submission. As I was and continue to be extremely keen to have this patent granted it seemed it was better to be safe than sorry under such circumstances.

Having agreed this with my examiner I then went ahead and submitted four responses to the USPTO via fax. Evidence of these submissions can be seen on the attached fax machine phone bill. To ensure they had been correctly received by the USPTO I then also phoned up and requested one of your employees to email me Tiff files showing receipt of these four submissions, which was duly done as requested. I then phoned my examiner to check if anything more need be done and he informed me that everything should be fine and he would process the responses as soon as he received them.

I did not then hear anything from the USPTO for almost a year when I received a notification of abandonment (only recently forwarded to me by my US Attorney). You can imagine how shocked and surprised I was to receive this notification after trying so hard to ensure my patent application would be successfully progressed to grant. I phoned my patent examiner (Mr. Christopher Bottorff) and he informed me that he had unfortunately never received my submissions despite making a request that they be traced.

In order to progress the situation I then forwarded a copy of all four of my original submissions to Mr Bortorff on his now functioning personal fax machine. Upon receipt of these he confirmed that the version now enclosed with this petition for revival of abandonment would place my patent in position for immediate allowance to grant and he would have completed this stage of the process if he had received the submissions.

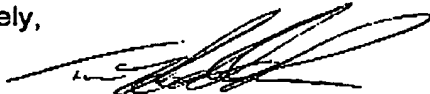

I do not know the reason for my submissions never reaching the examiner, they were definatly received by the USPTO so perhaps an administration error on my part or your part has prevented them from reaching their intended destination. Regardless of the reasons I would be most gratefull if this submission could now be forwarded to my patent examiner Mr. Christopher Bottorff, Art Unit 3618 in order that it may be processed as originally intended.

I hope the USPTO will understand that the abandonment of this patent application was entirely unintentional and contrary to my wishes as described.

I am afraid that I am unable to send you copies of the TIFF file receipts for my previous four submissions sent to me by the USPTO as I could not print them without a TIFF Reader software and the computer I had saved them on became unfortunately infected by a virus and the files were lost. If the USPTO will accept the evidence presented with this application for revival of my previous four submissions then perhaps I may be due a reimbursement for the fees associated with this procedure. I did try to phone the USPTO to ask them to trace the receipt of the previous four submissions but am afraid I found this request impossible to pursue within scope of the switchboard system operatives roles. Perhaps though if detailed fax machine records are kept you will be able to validate receipt of these items against your own records, if this is a necessary part of this revival process.

I thank you for your time considering this request and hope this submission reaches the examiner in order that my patent application may be granted.

Yours Sincerely,

Tim Paddock
